Title III of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 protects against discrimination in public facilities open to the public. Title III further authorizes the Attorney General to initiate legal proceedings when a person has been denied equal access to public facilities on the basis of race, color, religion, or national origin.

Discrimination in Public Facilities - Civil Rights

The terms civil service and public service seem to refer to very similar concepts but there is a significant difference between the two. Civil service is performed by a civil servant, a bureaucrat hired by the country's government who works for the public sector; conversely, public service is performed by a public servant, a person appointed by a member of the
